HAPPENING IN OUR PROPERTIES

In February, the Stewarding Department continued to provide comprehensive training sessions both before and after operations on the proper cleaning procedures of kitchen equipment.

The training emphasized the step-by-step cleaning process, correct chemical usage, and preventive maintenance practices to ensure optimal performance and maintain high hygiene standards.

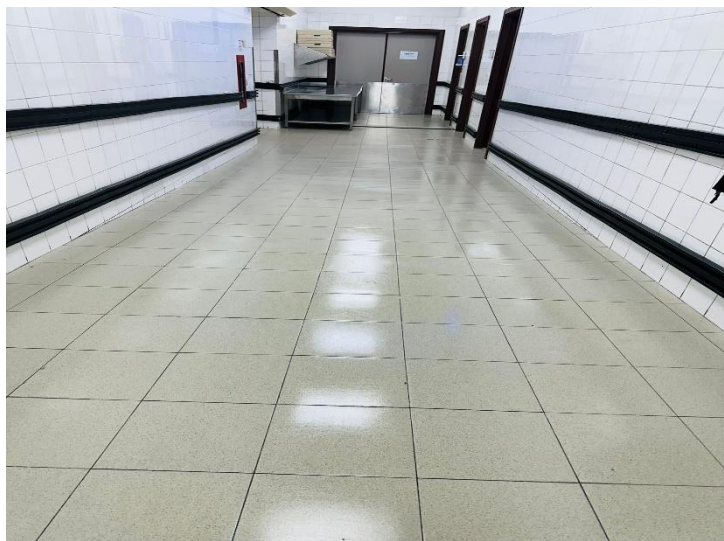

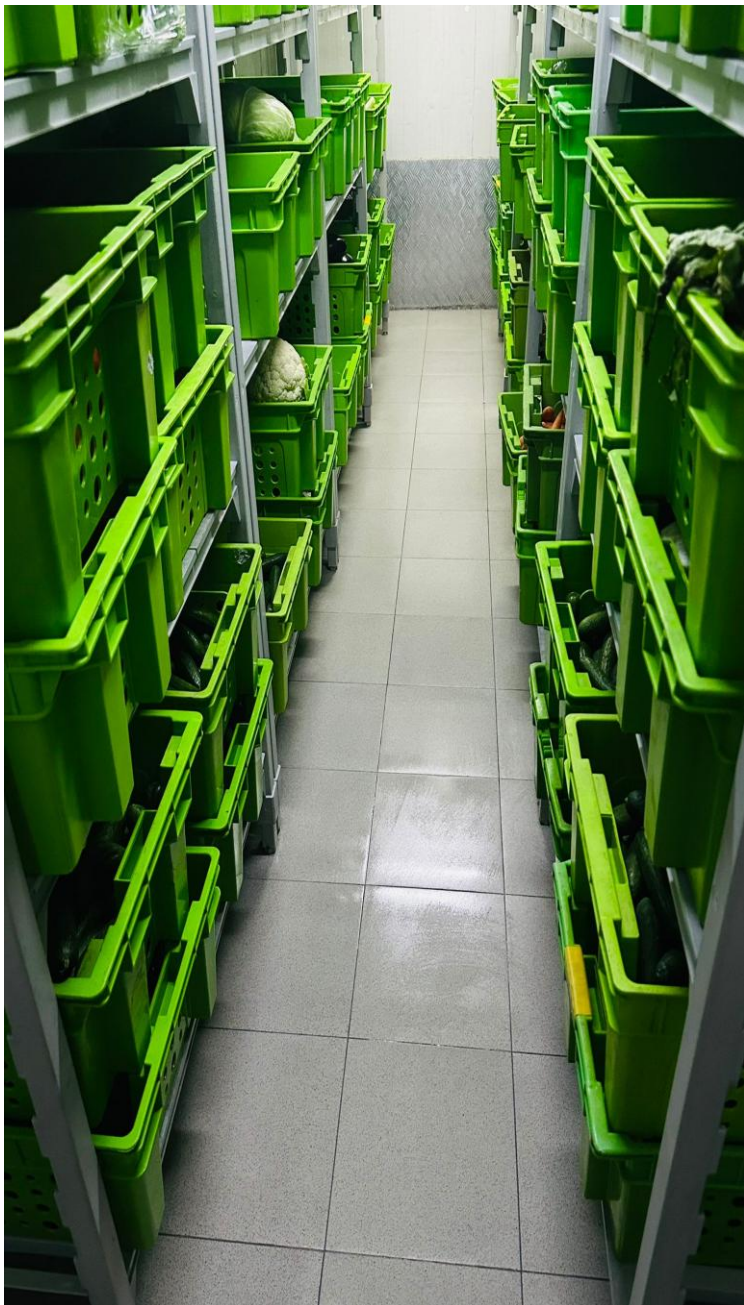

All cleaning activities were properly recorded using monitoring forms and documentation to ensure compliance, accountability, and accurate tracking for consistent follow-up.

A regular cleaning schedule remains in place; however, the team ensures that if any foul odors or visible dirt are detected, immediate cleaning is carried out regardless of the planned schedule.

This proactive approach helps maintain food safety, hygiene compliance, and operational efficiency.
